

Shashank ND Founder and CEO, Practo

Shashank is responsible for the overall vision and direction of Practo while maintaining an active role in building Practo's game changing products.

He started Practo in 2008, along with co-founder Abhinav Lal, when he discovered that there was a profound need to transform the healthcare industry and connect consumers with healthcare providers.

He's put Practo on a mission to help improve human health and longevity and Practo has evolved into the single destination for consumers to take care of all their health needs as well as those of their loved ones. Consumers can find doctors and book online appointments, chat online with doctors, order medicines and lab tests, store health records and even read health articles written by doctors. For healthcare providers, Practo is the platform that helps them connect with consumers, provide a better patient experience as well as provide tools that help them manage and grow their practice.

Practo has over 2,00,000 healthcare providers on its platform and is present in India, Singapore, Philippines, Brazil, Indonesia catering to consumers and providers and in 10 more countries with its software products for healthcare providers. Practo touches the lives of billions of people today and is responsible for over 50M appointments/year on its platform

Under his leadership, Practo is now focused on opening the platform to more healthcare stakeholders so they can build new services on top of Practo's platform and deliver a superior healthcare experience for both consumers and providers

Shashank has a B.Tech from the prestigious NIT, Surathkal and is a founder circle member of iSPIRT, a think tank for the Indian software industry. Shashank has been featured in the Forbes 30 under 30 list of young influential people to watch and the 2016 Fortune 40 under 40 most promising business leaders in India.
